MARTINA VERTURELLI

Designer of Breccia Series

Martina, a dedicated designer with Digital Design Srl, grew up immersed in art as the daughter of renowned artist Adriano Venturelli.

Today, she translates the creativity she inherited into her work, seamlessly blending her father's legacy with her distinctive vision.

BRECCIA

Breccia originated from Breccia Aurora Marble, an Italian marble that renowned for its elegance and captivating appearance. The marble enchants with its lively combination of beige base color, giving it a warm and inviting character infused with fragments of various minerals and rocks.

Its irregular fragments and veins slightly contrasted with darker tones that meander through the beige backdrop. These darker elements may manifest as veins, swirls, or patches, gracefully interweaving with the lighter base to create a harmonious yet visually stimulating design.

Adapted to a new color of grey, it added a touch of contemporary giving a more distinctive character to modern architecture design.

These visual characteristics give this material unmistakable charm and a touch of timeless beauty and sophistication to all spaces from bathrooms, kitchens, flooring, and even grand entrance halls; an ideal choice sought by designers and architects. From classic to contemporary, making it a versatile & elegant material in the world of luxury building and design.

CONCRETI

Concreti was born from the material study of concrete and clays, with the intention of enhancing natural materials to create a more natural and comfortable urban style esthetic.

Three natural warm shades blends with hues of typical concrete colors; the Italian artist created the material by giving it color with natural pigments creating unique artifacts.

Concreti maximized the expressive potential for interior and exterior design, perfect for creative combination with other materials and design elements.
